

Postdoctoral Fellowship Opportunity:

The Bone and Joint Initiative at Western University (London, Canada) is seeking exceptional candidates for the inaugural Kirkley Postdoctoral Fellows in Musculoskeletal Health Research and Innovation. Kirkley Postdoctoral Fellows will join a training program aimed at enhancing transdisciplinary collaborative research and career development in leadership and innovation. Research addresses the causes, prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and palliation for a wide range of conditions related to bones, joints, and connective tissues. Successful candidates will work with a dynamic group of researchers (e.g., biologists, engineers, epidemiologists, clinicians) to better understand musculoskeletal conditions, decrease their burden and enhance active living.

For more information, visit www.cmhr.uwo.ca/pdfellows/kirkley_award